

Mental Health Consultancy

Being a small privately owned and operated company, Approved Door Consultancy Ltd offer an impartial range of services to our clients resulting from over 30 combined years' experience with an in depth knowledge within doorset, joinery and general construction, including a passion for Mental Health including their specific needs required

Having had first hand experience in the design, manufacture and installation of severe duty doorsets, we know what it takes for a doorset to withstand destructive behaviours yet still be operational

✓ Early engagement to prepare for tender

Do you have a new project, or just the requirement for one door replacement, approaching? Would you like to take advantage of our early involvement with the needs your building? In doing so, we can ensure we present to you a newly agreed independent and impartial standard which you can use to approach the market, fully checking the proposals meet those standards with the specification we have created, allowing you greater confidence

We can often explore a number of aspects that can sometimes be easily overlooked, which ensures your new doors will function as intended avoiding headaches for you after installation

✓ Door Manufacture and/or Installation Specification writing

Getting the right specification, covering both the manufacture and the installation of doorsets, is crucial to ensuring the environment can perform how it is intended, as the safety of all building occupants are paramount

If you have a working specification in place that generally works, that is great. If you don't, we can assist by creating this with you. Equally, if you have a working specification, but then encounter new challenges within a certain area of your building, we can offer our services to review your current specification, enhancing it to suit any new challenges faced

✓ Ironmongery Supply and/or Installation Specification writing

As with the door itself, it is important to ensure the ironmongery requirements are well thought through with every eventuality being considered to ensure the best possible performance of the doorset as a whole. We know that products are often changing with manufacturers constantly developing new products and releasing improvements to existing products, so why not keep up to speed when reviewing or implementing a new specification for your challenging environment

Our experience covers a wide range of items, including; privacy vision panels, door locking systems, anti-barricade functions, lock back abilities, reduced ligature products and more

If you require assistance with anything not listed, please do not hesitate to contact us. As an independent Company, we can work impartially to suit individual client requirements to best suit their environments

✓ Door and/or Ironmongery Specification Review

Have you been working to an existing specification for some time? If so, it may be worthwhile considering having this reviewed to ensure it is still as relevant and up to date as possible. This way, your new doorsets, will keep up with your needs, not failing the needs of the building or its occupants

Although continuous like for like ordering can ease your procurement process, with ongoing product development as well as ever changing service user behaviours, would now be the right time to review your standards prior to further investment in new door stock?

✓ Support in sourcing Door Manufacturers and/or Installers

Over time, we have become aware of many companies offering services within the Mental Health sector. Making use of our experience, could help to improve your overall project delivery, resulting in greater success

Approved Door Consultancy have implemented an Approved Supplier Directory. This sees us carrying out a range of checks, including factory visits, company checks, as well as client feedback, on a regular basis. Only suppliers consistently satisfying our criteria, remain on our directory for consideration by our clients

✓ Project delivery consultancy (to various levels)

Our experience and knowledge taught us that Mental Healthcare can be unlike any other construction sector, due to the requirements being much more complex and stringent than most others. This can be within the build, product selection, installation standards needed, for example

Having had first hand trade experience within such environments, Approved Door Consultancy are well placed to offer impartial services to help you deliver your project, to a level of involvement to suit your needs
