

Electrical Training Electrical installations in medical locations BS7671:Section 710

We deliver both high voltage (HV) and low voltage (LV) training for Competent and Authorised Persons, plus safety testing, electrical installations and conversion from mechanical to electrical engineering.

Is this course for you?

This course is for estates managers and officers, electrical supervisors, electricians and maintenance staff, who have a responsibility for electrical installations in the healthcare environment.

Course aim

To examine the requirements of BS7671: Section 710, including the scope and practical application, for new and existing electrical installations.

Objectives

- Define the scope of BS7671: Section 710
- Recognise the risks involved with use of electrical equipment in medical locations
- Identify the practical aspects of electrical installations in medical locations
- State the requirements of new electrical installations in accordance with BS7671: Section 710
- Identify the requirements of electrical alterations and additions to existing installations in accordance with BS7671: Section 710
- Identify the requirements for inspection and testing of electrical installations in accordance with BS7671: Section 710

50+ years of world-class training

www.eastwoodparktraining.co.uk

01454 262777 | sales@eastwoodpark.co.uk

Eastwood Park, Falfield, Gloucestershire, GL12 8DA

